The ARAI motocross
RMX

The very latest from Arai technology — the all new RMX! A completely new design specifically intended for the comfort and protection of the serious dirt bike rider. The RMX features an exclusive factory-installed mouth and face guard that adjusts up and down as well as fore and aft to suit individual face clearance needs, a De-Luxe 5-snap visor with the new Super-Seal top edge that keeps water and mud out, plus extensive use of a special ventilating foam in the interior upholstery to reduce inside temperatures at speed.

Arai knows what the real world of Motocross is like. So the upholstery foam was also formulated to improve the wearer's hearing ability as compared with standard foam padding. The entire interior has been designed to be washed out and rinsed time after time without losing its shape or fit, and special provision has been made for quick drying after rinsing too. A unique new D-ring design eliminates the usual chinstrap bulge that puts pressure on the jawbone. The mouth and face guard is made of rubberised nylon that remains flexible at all temperatures and that can be painted along with the helmet for custom designs.

With its superior fit, balance and light weight, the RMX is a no-compromise helmet for the serious Motocrosser or off-road rider. Built to meet or exceed the stringent SNELL-75 standard and with full approval from AS1698, the many RMX advantages are recognised by top dirt riders — racers such as ex-World 500cc GP Motocross Champion Graham Noyce — as being important to their winning efforts. Look at the added protection, try on the extra comfort of an Arai RMX, and you won't settle for anything less.
