Psssst. Wanna see some naughty pictures?

Snapped on the Guildford bypass, this astonishing picture is one of a series showing eight-times world champion, Phil Read and wife Angie, flagrantly flouting the dictates of society.

They are riding without crash helmets.

If this picture fell into the hands of the authorities, their name would be mud.

Phil and Angie Mud.

What's more, the Prince of Speed (and I'm not going to reveal why they call him that) is so pleased with the photographs that he's going to use them for his ad campaign. "This'll strip the body paint off those Life Ladies," quoth he.

Yippee — a foursome.

Next Month: the pictures Eddie Kidd wouldn't even show his mum.
