

Just raise one hand to increase ventilation.

Adjusting the visor on the glassfibre and new Super Polycarbonate Fullface Nolan helmets is a single-handed job. That's one reason why Nolan makes all other helmets old hat.

No fiddling with press studs. The shatterproof Lexan® visor simply locks in three positions.

Flush.

Midway.

And open.

The locking device holds the visor firmly. Even if you raise it all the way it won't scuff the helmet top because it's held just short.

But what makes all Nolans really different is that they are the only helmets that can be "custom fitted" for you individually.

You don't just buy a Nolan to fit your head.

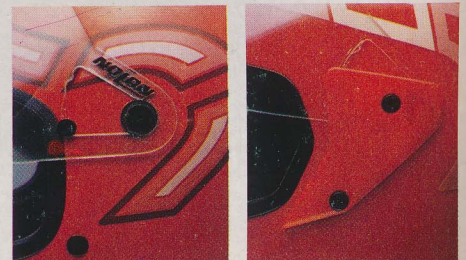

A unique system of interchangeable cheek pads enables your Nolan dealer to fit the helmet you choose with pads that cushion your face, too. Precisely. Snugly. Comfortably.

Like all glassfibre full face Nolans the new Super Polycarbonate Fullface meets BS 2495/77 HP and every Nolan – even the new Nolan Mini-Jet, the ideal lightweight bike or moped helmet – comes with a two year, no-nonsense free replacement guarantee against accident damage.

Remember, though, to avoid hot flushes with a "custom fitted" Nolan, just open wide and say "ah."
